Mark Phillips @

still looking for it, it is probably on another machine i should have everything but i guess i am tired and there is just so much stuff to juggle with all the code too

8:31 AM

so i'm guessing you talked about keys with alex because right after we talked, he texted me asking for his key information.

8:32 AM

He asked me about it

He asked how many signers were required to be clear, he should have his keys and i wrote a detailed ledger how to with his key information and gave it to him when we were at ryan's, i don't need or want more work, and more importantly, i never used it without his explicit instruction, so as a result, i don't think i have actually used it aside from the contribution which you were present. as i shared last night, i don't have his keys with me anymore, since it was for the dao-lawfirm, the key was split and its held in the law firm's secure files

Checking in here 10:45 AM

...you're going to reach out to them to have your things decrypted, so I can forward

Yesterday

hey Mark — been getting much deeper into crypto lately and i would like to assume control over my share of the movement ms key. Please let me know you'd like to facilitate this he doesn't need any excuse to access his own keys, but in true alex fashion...
